The Shradhda Rehabilitation Foundation that rehabilitates the mentally challenged from the streets has now added two new centres in Karjat, donated by Shenu and Hoshi Mistry, whose dream has finally come true, observes GAYATHRI RAMANUJAM

The Shradhda Rehabilitation Foundation (SRF) that has been extending its hands to help the mentally challenged from the streets received two more centres on Sunday. These centres, donated by Shenu and Hoshi Mistry have been built near the already established two centres in Kharghar, Raigarh and Kalyan. These centres are the fulfillment of Shenu’s late parents’ dreams to help the poor of the town. In the centres are named after her parents, The Shruta (Shenu) Deva Memorial Centre for the blind and the Shruvi (Hoshi) Deva Memorial Centre for the mentally ill.

Shradhda Rehabilitation Foundation

The Shradhda Rehabilitation Foundation was founded in 1984, and today it has facilities in 12 cities. The global network of Shradhda Rehabilitation Foundation has picked up, nurtured and successfully treated over 10,000 mentally disabled students of all ages. Shradhda Rehabilitation Foundation has received the prestigious award of the Man of the Year from the President of India.

The centres are fully equipped with all the necessary amenities. The centres are run by dedicated staff who have been trained in the latest techniques of rehabilitation. The centres are open to all children and adults who have mental disabilities. The centres provide a safe and secure environment where the patients can receive the necessary treatment and care.

With these centres, Shradhda Rehabilitation Foundation is now able to provide a larger number of mentally disabled children with the necessary care and support. The centres are equipped with the latest technology and facilities to ensure the best possible care for the patients.

The centres are also equipped with a library, a class room, a sports room and a kitchen. The centres also have a playground where the patients can engage in various activities.
